

Theresa Harrison

I'm a two-time best-selling author, civic technologist, cancer survivor, and entrepreneur with a love for sports and storytelling.

Life has thrown me curveballs, bricks, and even the occasional kitchen sink. Instead of breaking me, it built my resilience. I started speaking to share my journey, techniques, and tips. But more importantly, to remind people that life isn't just about surviving, it's about thriving.

Through my company GEORGE STREET Services, we're harnessing AI to build the technology of tomorrow while giving today's entrepreneurs, professionals and others the tools to succeed.

Topics I'm Passionate About:

- More Than a Diagnosis: Resilience, Reinvention, and Radical Faith
- She Plays to Win: Important Leadership Lessons from Women in Sports & Business
- Truth Matters: Building Digital Trust in an Era of Misinformation
- Power Moves: Women Navigating M&A, Capital, and Corporate Strategy
- The Next Step: Action That Creates the Gap Between Dreamers and Doers
